My family has lost a big part of our family. a great father, grandfather, great grandfather and uncle, and great godfather to me. and my madrina like a mom to me. I've looked up to them. like my primo jose macias and his wife Irma. Never will I forget all the good times we had when we were kids me and all my family did everything together from going to eat at George's pizza after church then we went to astroworld I remember when we lived in cypress and all my family would come to party and everyone stayed at our house those were the best times. wish we could go back in time and do it all over again. all the time we spent in matamotors and Brownsville. I could go on with memories but I would probably would have a book by the time I finish. Me myself will never take my family for granted so to my madrina and all my cousins aunts and uncles love you y'all with all my heart especially my padrino Frank macias love you always I will Never forget you. Trying to fight these tears running down my face so to my God father my heart is hurting for you . From your Godson Joe zermeno

Our deepest condolences go out to Mrs. Macias and the entire Macias family from your Rio Grande Valley family, The Salazar's. I know there isn't anything I can say at this very moment that's going to make y'all feel any better. But know that we have all of you in our thoughts and prayers. I feel honored to have known and to have had some cold beer conversations with the Great Mr. Macias. I do have one funny memory to share with you. We partied all night at his house, it might have been for his birthday some years back. He and I were the last two to go in the house around 5:30 in the morning. He pointed at the room I was going to be sleeping in, I said thanks and then crawled my way down the hall. I swear, not 30 minutes later, I hear him putting away chairs and tables outside:flushed:! I said Holy Shit! This man isn't human! So my wife, being the loving and caring person that she is, elbowed me back out of bed to go help him :confounded:. I put my boots back on and stumbled back outside to help him. The man is sweeping and carrying on like nobody's business! I didn't know whether to kneel down and kiss his feet or what? Then he turns to me and says, "Que paso mijo, quieres otra servesa o que?" Since I couldn't speak, he took it as a yes and popped open another beer and handed it to me 🧑:skin-tone-2:♂! The man was just an awesome person to be around with. I bet right now, he's somewhere up in heaven doing what he does best, setting up chairs and tables getting ready to entertain his love ones. Much love and respect. GOD Bless and R.I.P. Mr. Macias :pray::skin-tone-2:
