Lola, This was truly a sad time for everyone down in Texas and even for us folks up north. I am grateful for the short time that we had when you were here last year. You definitely are a funny lady. I know my sister will miss you dearly. For Sissy and her children, there will never be a day that goes by they won't think about you. My thoughts and prayers also go out to your children and your family members. May you rest in paradise now with your husband, your son and your mom. And please Lola can you do me a favor. Please watch over my sister and her family because they surely do need you right now as their guardian angel. God bless you and fly high 🇺🇸💕🙏

Lola, What a shock... You are truly going to be missed. I know that I've told you before, but please know how much I've appreciated your sisterly love with Sissy and her family all of these years. Please continue to keep an eye on her, as now she needs you more than ever, because you are not here. If there is anything in this situation that comforts me and others (I'm sure) is the fact that you are now with your husband and your son. I've been so extremely sad for you since the passing of your son, it was obvious how painful that was. I could never imagine. Until we are together again, Rest in PEACE, Lola.
